EXPORT

Omstead lake smelt, 'osmerus mordax' have been exported for decades to overseas customers and today, Great Lakes Fish Company is recognized as the leading global supply source for smelt.

Export shipments are made in 40' refrigerated containers usually ranging between 18 - 21 MT each. Loaded in Wheatley, they are shipped direct to customers' destinations via the ports of Montreal or Vancouver.

All Omstead lake smelt are wild caught by otter trawl in the fast-flowing waters of Lake Erie in Canada. Great Lakes Fish Company is the largest holder of fishing quotas in the Great Lakes, operating our own fleet of fishing vessels, catching and freezing fresh smelt daily, in season.
